Member²Member Discount Program FAQ

Q: What kind of discount should I offer?

A: Many members offer a percentage off products and/or services. Examples include: “10% off a specific service” or “special rates for specific services, call business for details”. Discounts are ultimately at the member’s discretion, so you must make that decision.

Q: How are Member-to-Member Discounts publicized?

A: The Chamber promotes its Member-to-Member Discount Program via its Web site, email and/or promotional flyers. Information is updated regularly.

Q: What if I take part in the program, but change my mind?

A: Members can choose to discontinue their participation in the discount program at any time. The Chamber requires a 30-day written notice in order to update promotional material.

Q: Which businesses take part in the Member-to-Member Discount program?

A: For a complete listing of participating businesses, visit the Chamber’s online member-to-member discount list.

Q: When do I use my Member-to-Member Discount Card?

A: You can use your Member-to-Member Discount Card when shopping at member businesses that offer member-to-member discounts. For a complete listing of discounts, see our website.

Q: How many Member-to-Member Discount Cards can my business request?

A: Your business can request as many Member-to-Member Discount Cards as you need. They are available at the Chamber office during our regular business hours.
